SAEBO RANGE

Your home. Your health. We care.

SAEBO RANGE

This cutting edge device helps clients suffering from neurological and orthopaedic injuries incorporate their hand functionality in therapy and at home.

The lightweight, low-profile functional design is just one of the many innovative features that are offered with the Saebo Glove.

The proprietary tension system extends the fingers and thumb after grasping so clients can incorporate their affected limb functionally.

Features

This newfound freedom leads to improved motor recovery and functional independence.

- Spiral forearm design that secures the wrist in a functional position
- Tensioners are located at the IP points (interphalangeal Joint) of the fingers and thumb to assist with the extending the digits following grasping
- Individual tensioners can be removed to customise assistance based on the client's needs
- Numerous sized Tensioners included to accommodate various finger lengths
- Full joint finger motion enables maximum functional performance
- Silicone covered fingertips to improve traction during grasping
- Non-slip liner to minimise migration
- Glove includes Lycra material for expandability
- Palm exposed to increase breathability and ease of donning
- Lightweight and comfortable

SAEBOSTRETCH

A revolutionary hand splint for individuals suffering from neurological injuries such as stroke. The splint helps to prevent joint damage while improving and maintaining range of motion.

The SaeboStretch allows the fingers to move through flexion caused by postural changes, associated reactions and increased tone. It then gradually repositions the fingers into extension. It includes three different hand pieces that offer various grades of resistance.

SAEBOSTEP

A lightweight, uniquely designed foot drop brace that provides comfort while offering optimum foot clearance and support.

Designed to replace uncomfortable, stiff, or bulky splints that go inside the shoe that lack support and durability.
